

SEN Information Report 2022-2023

This report describes the current provision at Oak Lodge School:

- Oak Lodge provides education to children and young people with moderate to complex learning difficulties, predominantly in the area of cognition and learning, as described in the SEN Code of Practice.
- Students attending Oak Lodge have a wide range of special educational needs. More than 50% have an autism spectrum condition. Whilst all students will have moderate to complex learning difficulties, some may also have physical disabilities, sensory impairments, language and communication difficulties or medical needs. A few students will exhibit challenging behaviour.
- More detail on our commitment to high quality educational provision for all is detailed in our Special Needs Policy, available on the school website.
- All students attending Oak Lodge will have an Education Health and Care Plan (EHCP), or in exceptional cases may be undergoing assessment. The school works in partnership with Barnet Council and other commissioners to assess the individual needs of each young person admitted to the school.
- Two Deputy Headteachers act as SENCOs for the school and the main link in the assessment process with our commissioners:
 - Ginny D'Odorico (Autism Spectrum Conditions)
 - ginny.dodorico@oaklodeschool.org
 - Teresa Ellis (All other SEND)
 - teresa.ellis@oaklodeschool.org
- Parents and carers of young people expressing an interest in attending the school will be involved in their child's education at Oak Lodge from their first visit to the school. This will continue throughout the student's time at the school, through regular parental consultation opportunities and the annual review of their Education Health & Care Plan.

- For each student, we maintain a Monitoring Outcomes Report that contains the short- and long-term outcomes drawn from the Education, Health and Care Plan. These are reviewed termly and feed into the process for monitoring each student's progress towards planned outcomes at Annual Review.
- The school makes detailed arrangements for supporting young people in moving on to the next stage of their education and preparing for adulthood.
 - Our SENCOs and/or other key members of senior staff will visit children in their primary phase or other settings during the admission process and arrange a series of transition visits to Oak Lodge for the child or young person to familiarise themselves with their new school.
 - A detailed transition plan is established from the year in which the young person becomes 14 years old to enable early planning to be put in place for life beyond Oak Lodge, where this will benefit the individual case.
- Further information about the adaptation and personalisation of teaching and learning, the school curriculum and wider learning programme to meet special educational needs is available on our website.
- There is a high level of expertise amongst staff for the range of special educational needs presenting in our students. In addition to qualified teacher status, many staff have additional qualifications including at higher degree level in special educational needs. Appraisal arrangements are in place to ensure that all employees, at all levels of our organisation have access to the training they need to perform to the highest standard for the students in their care.
- Our Advanced Accreditation award from the National Autistic Society provides quality assurance of our whole school approach to SEN support.
- A high level of adult support in each classroom linked to an innovative curriculum programme helps to secure the engagement of all students in the learning activities of the school
- The school's pastoral team that includes counsellors and safeguarding experts provides individualised support to young people and their families to ensure the best opportunities for securing emotional and social development. This work is supplemented by the provision of a parent counselling service.
- The pastoral team, in conjunction with the SENCOs and other school staff, work closely with the visiting NHS multi-disciplinary team and wider external health and social services to ensure that additional support for young people and their families is available when required. We also liaise closely with Barnet or other local authorities, as required to ensure that the needs of young people looked after by them are fully supported in their provision at school.

- We would agree that it is impossible to get things right at all times, and that sometimes the quality of our service will not meet the expectations of ourselves or of our parents. Our complaints procedure is available via the school website.
